DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-38 are pending in the instant application.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: a combination of (i) an agent used to suppress a genetic mutation and/or correct a defect caused by a mutation (for example, one of the compounds recited in claims 3-5, 25 and 26, or one of the compounds recited in claim 34); and (ii) an agent effective to increase transcription of the gene (for example, claim 8, claim 9, claim 23 or claim 24).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species (one specific compound used to suppress a genetic mutation and one specific compound to increase transcription of the gene) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: Claim 31 is generic to all combinations of agents.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

According to PCT Rule 13.2, unity of invention exists only when the shared same or corresponding technical feature is a contribution over the prior art. The species have the shared property of suppressing a genetic mutation and increasing transcription. However, Wilde et al (US Patent Application Publication No. 2004/0067900 A1) teach the administration of compounds that promote read-through of premature stop codons in combination with ofloxacin, which is the compound of instant claim 8 for increasing transcription of the gene (e.g., paragraphs [0015]-[0030] and [0222]). Thus, the technical feature linking the species does not make a contribution over the prior art and cannot be considered a special technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
